

HORSE FLESH AS FOOD.

No Local Demand For That Sort of Diet as Yet.

A Danish family in Hartford is assured a good and abundant supply of meat for the winter, and the store is now on hand and ready for the table as needed. To be sure it is horse meat, but the family became accustomed to that particular variety of food in their native country and prefer it to all other kinds of meat.

Their getting the supply now came about in this fashion: Some time ago the father of the family asked Agent Thrall of the Humane society to be on the lookout and let him know when a young horse should be killed by the society. He was particular that the animal should be a young one and in sound and perfect health; saying that if he could get such a horse he would like to procure it and have it prepared for food to be used in his home.

The opportunity came to Mr. Thrall on Wednesday, when under the direction of the Humane society the horse which broke a leg, by catching a foot in a trolley car track near the South Green, was shot to put him out of misery. The animal, a gray, was about four years old, sound and healthy and quite fat. Mr. Thrall notified the Dane that he could have the horse by taking it away.

The Dane sent for the animal and had it carried to his residence, where a friend of his, a butcher, dressed it in the same manner as beef is prepared for the table. When dressed the meat presented a very attractive appearance. The roasting pieces and steak were reserved to be eaten fresh, while the fore and hind legs were smoked. The balance of the carcass was salted down as beef is and stored in barrels.

In all about 700 pounds of good meat was obtained. In flavor the fresh horse meat is very pleasant. It is sweeter to the taste than beef and also somewhat drier. There is nothing objectionable whatever about it, either in flavor or appearance. In other countries the flesh of the horse is held in high esteem and it is not improbable that in the near future it will become common in this country. Agent Thrall says that there are a large number of families in Hartford at the present time who prefer horse flesh as a food to that of any other meat. As in the case of beef, of course the animal should be young and in good condition.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT.

A large circle of friends will deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in the death, which occurred early last evening, of Everett Griswold Kimberly, aged twenty-two years, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kimberly of No. 17 Sylvan avenue. All that devoted love, unceasing care and the best medical skill could do were unavailing to check the progress of the disease to which deceased finally succumbed. Many months were spent in the Adirondacks, in the warmer clime of Florida and on the old farm in Guilford in the hope of regaining health. His death will be sincerely mourned. He was an exceptionally excellent young man, devoted to his parents, a kind son and brother, a warm and unselfish friend. He was for two and a half years assistant bookkeeper for Benedict, Downs & Co., the wholesale coal merchants of this city, and was much beloved by his employees, who, when failing health compelled him to leave their service about three years ago, still retained their interest in him and his welfare, and gave many kind evidences of their warm appreciation of his lovable character and devotedness to his declining health. He was a native of this city and educated at the Guilford high school, his parents having for years resided in Guilford. He attended divine service when in Guilford at the First Congregational church there and since the family's return to this city had attended the Church of the Ascension. He was in recent years, when health permitted, an active member of the New Haven Y. M. C. A. He leaves, beside his parents, two sisters and a host of friends. The Rev. Mr. Mulford will officiate at the funeral services in this city tomorrow forenoon at 9:30, and Rev. Mr. Mulford and Rev. Mr. Snow of the First church, Guilford, will officiate at the services in Guilford. The interment will be in the family's cemetery in that town.

A GREAT STRIKE.

Shipbuilders' Strike Ended. Glasgow, Dec. 11.—The great shipbuilding strike has been settled. The masters have agreed to grant the Clyde men a shilling a week advance immediately and another shilling advance in February. The strike has also been settled in Belfast, where the men will get a shilling advance in February. The settlement was undoubtedly brought about by the fact that both Clyde and other shipbuilding firms were in danger of losing important contracts to build foreign war-ships, orders for some of which have already been transferred to German concerns.

The strike began at Belfast on October 11, when 3,000 engineers and their assistants refused to work any longer without a restoration of the wage rate previous to 1892. The employers urged that, though the yards were full of work, they had accepted contracts at such unremunerative rates that they could not afford to increase wages until these contracts were completed. An important feature of the strike was the fact that two yards on the Clyde, the Thomson's and the Fairfield's, which closed in sympathy with the Belfast companies, had government work which they were asked to push forward to the utmost. The Clyde companies subsequently locked out their employees. When the strike was in full swing it was estimated that more than 100,000 persons were affected, the coal and iron industries being considerably hampered by the shipbuilding strike.

Thanks From Boys' Brigade.

At a meeting of the Twenty-second company, Boys' brigade of the Epworth M. E. church, held Monday evening, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of this company are due and are hereby extended to the "Journal and Courier" for the article published in relation to our flag presentation.

COURT RECORD.

United States Court—Judge Townsend. In the United States circuit court yesterday before Judge W. K. Townsend, the trial of the salvage case of the Chapman Derrick and Wrecking company of New York and the T. A. Scott Wrecking company of New London, against the owners of the schooner Lantelle of Bridgeport, was begun. The schooner went ashore at Branford last August and was saved by the wrecking company, whose claim for pay is not granted.

City Court—Criminal Side—Judge Dow.

William Prybylowski, reform school complaint, discharged; George J. Johnson, theft, continued to December 12; Edward P. Reynolds, breach of the peace, nolle; Henry Cook, resisting officer, $2 fine; Isaac Katz, breach of the peace against Jacob Marcus, $2 fine; $10.25 costs; William Gibson, breach of the peace against his wife, continued to December 31; William Henchy, keeping unregistered dog, continued to December 4; Ah Song and Lem Chow, gaming, $2 fine, $2.34 costs; William H. Doyle, breach of the peace, $2 fine, $3.06 costs; Thomas O'Brien and John Fogarty, theft from person, continued to December 14; Patrick Rogers, violation of liquor law, continued to December 28, it way.

Court Notes.

SCOTT'S FINE MUST BE PAID.

A notice of appeal from the decision of Judge Wheeler given in Waterbury last Saturday was filed yesterday afternoon by Walter Scott, proprietor of the Waverly house, in Cheshire, from which a large stock of liquors was confiscated and who was fined for violation of the liquor law. Judge Wheeler's decision declared that one of the mittimus was entirely good in form and that the other was irregular, but that the defect in it is waived because the counsel for Mr. Scott did not demur to the sheriff's return.

Judge Wheeler does not sustain the claim of Scott's counsel that Justice Beadle took Scott's promise to pay and that this was in effect a payment. He dismisses the writ of habeas corpus. Scott was convicted in two cases; first for selling without a license, and second for having liquor on his premises with intent to sell. In the last case the mittimus omitted the expression "with intent to sell." This Judge Wheeler says is an irregularity, but even if Scott had demurred the sheriff would be bound to hold the prisoner till the justice could issue another and correct mittimus.

SUED RUSSO FOR LIBEL.

Paul Russo, editor and publisher of "La Stella d'Italia" was yesterday sued for libel for $5,000 by Dominic Pettino of Providence, R. I. The claim is based on the publication of an article in the Providence edition of the paper declaring that Pettino had disappeared, and connecting him with the loss of $500 belonging to his employer, B. Buffalo of Providence. Mr. Pettino claims that he has been in Providence continually, and produced evidence from his employer to show that there had been no mislaid money. Pettino's counsel is Philip Pond, 23, of this city, and the case is returnable in the superior court the first week in January. WALLACE CASE NEARLY CLOSED. The evidence is all in in the $500,000 suit of C. C. Jackson and wife and others against Wallace & Sons, Thomas Wallace and John W. Thompson and several others and Tuesday afternoon arguments were begun. For arguments each side was allowed six hours. Tuesday night John W. Walling for the plaintiffs opened and talked a little over two hours. Yesterday morning ex-Judge Lynde Harrison in behalf of one of the defendants, addressed the court. He was followed by General Stephen B. Kellogg of Waterbury and Attorney Perkins of Hartford. Ex-Judge Stoddard will close for the plaintiffs.

DESERVES A WHIPPING POST.

The case of William Gibson of the annex for assault upon his wife, was continued by Judge Dow yesterday to December 31. The judge said he deserved the whipping post, but would not jail him as his family would suffer the most by it.

OVER A BUILDER'S BILL.

In the court of common pleas yesterday the trial of the suit of E. P. Brett, the builder, against Mrs. E. S. Beecher, is in progress before Judge Hotchkiss and a jury. The suit is for $300 for services and the defense is that the bill has been paid and also that it is outlawed.

A DRUNKEN LOT.

The lodging house known as "Three Star" at the corner of Fair and Prindle streets was raided yesterday morning and James Reynolds, James B. Golden, Marshall Whalley, Claudius Wilson, Thomas Ralby, George Mason, Daniel Driscoll, James Flynn, Thomas Murphy, and Mike Lynch, was arrested, all charged with vagrancy. The prisoners were all in various stages of intoxication. Driscoll and Golden lay on the floor with both arms around each other's necks. The growler in the shape of a two gallon pan was in evidence, and while waiting for the patrol wagon the police let the men finish the beer. The arrested men were drunk and offered no resistance.

Hack, Livery and Feed Stables.

The well known and extensively patronized hack, livery and feed stables at 38 and 40 Gilbert street, corner of Howard avenue, are headquarters for good horses and stylish carriages. Single and double teams can be had at very reasonable rates. J. Fitzpatrick, the popular proprietor, spares no pains in furnishing his patrons with the best in his line. Orders received by telephone will be promptly attended to. Telephone call, 333.

Prof. Geo. Ladd Married.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Professor George T. Ladd of Yale to Mrs. Stevens of New York at New York on Monday. Mrs. Stevens is a daughter of a leading physician of that city. Professor Ladd is at the head of the department of psychology at Yale and is also a weekly lecturer at Harvard on psychological subjects.

Kentucky Republicans. Eminence, Ky., Dec. 11.—Thirty shots were fired upon a train bound for Louisville from a place last night as they were returning from the inauguration of Governor Bradley. All the windows in the last car of the train which left Frankfort at 7:30 p. m. were shot out and the bullets tore off a great number of splinters of woodwork in the coach.

There were several women in the coach. At the first volley everybody lay flat on the floor. The firing continued rapidly. The train was still slowing up at Eminence, and in a moment it came to a standstill. Three men were seen in the dark along the track, and as the train started up again ten more shots were fired through the windows.

Only one person was hurt. A man's neck was cut by one of the heavy pieces of glass that flew in all directions through the car. Many members of the Grand Old club of Louisville were in the coach.

PERSONAL. Warren Smith, a former resident of this city, is in town. He is engaged in the canning of salmon in Atlanta. Mrs. B. J. Cooke and Master Charlie Cooke are visiting Alderman and Mrs. E. S.
